

PETRIFIED FOREST NATIONAL MONUMENT, ARIZONA is located east of Holbrook between U. S. 260 and 66. The logs were buried 160 million years ago by sediments composed principally of volcanic ash. Slowly the wood of the logs was impregnated with mineral solutions of silica which gradually filled in the wood cells until the logs are now 98 percent stone and 2 percent wood. Color photo by Hubert Lowman

50¢

*place
stamp
here*

address

MIRRO-KROME © CARD BY H. S. CROCKER CO., INC., SAN FRANCISCO 1, CALIF.

Rt 66 1802

